

TREND DESIGN + BUILD

At first impression, the jaw-dropping offices and showroom of Trend Design + Build make a bold statement. "When people walk into our facility, they realize that they've crossed the threshold—they've reached that next tier of the industry," says Troy Dean Ippolito, President of the Hallandale Beach-based interior design and construction firm. Ippolito holds a structural and architectural engineering degree as well as a Florida General

Contractors license. This synergy offers a unique approach to the interior design industry. His extensive design and residential development experience combined with an accomplished and versatile staff makes Trend a force to be reckoned with. Trend's diverse professional in-house services include: residential and commercial interior design, construction management, home automation, and first-class custom finishes and furnishings. This elite array of essential services is what truly sets Ippolito and his distinctive firm apart. Their 10,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility incorporates an impressive variety of product samples, a fully automated media room and a display of the most unique finishes to the design industry. In fact, they even house a complete millwork and custom cabinetry fabrication division. Trend truly embodies the idea of a design-build company. "The difference is this: Trend doesn't just manage all facets of a project," Ippolito says. "We design it, we build it, we fabricate it. We do it all!"
